THE HON'BLE SRI JUSTICE L.NARASIMHA REDDY

W.P.No.9673 of 2007

Date:01.05.2007

Between:

U.Kotamma

PETITIONER

AND

The State of Andhra Pradesh and others.

---------RESPONDENTS

ORDER:

The petitioners were issued a notice, dated 09.04.2007, directing them to explain as to why the assignment in their favour shall not be cancelled on the ground that they have alienated the land in Sy.No.559/4. The petitioners claim to have submitted an explanation, on 22.04.2004. Their grievance is that the fourth respondent is trying to evict them without passing any order.

Heard the learned counsel for the petitioners and the learned Government Pleader for Assignments.

The fourth respondent had initiated proceedings against the petitioners, by issuing a show cause notice. The petitioners had also submitted explanation. The further action must depend upon the nature of the orders, which the fourth respondent may pass. In case the orders are adverse to the interest of the petitioners, they can avail the remedy of appeal. The question of the petitioners being evicted without passing any order does not arise.

Hence, the writ petition is disposed of, directing that the petitioners shall not be evicted, except on the basis of a final order passed in pursuance of the show cause notice issued to them.

There shall be no order as to costs.
